POLICE COURT

A Bad Boy Gets a Much Needed
Lecture.

Other Cases Before Judge Sanders This Morning—A Few Fines.

Edwin Mortimer is the name of a very bad boy, whose bump of mischief seems abnormally developed. He is rather small, and is probably 14 years of age. He is the son of a widow and his father was the late Captain Jim Mortimer. The charge against him was turning in a fire alarm last Monday. He telephoned Chief Woods that there was a stable on fire in Mechanicsburg, and the deputy went all the way to Clements mill.
The message was sent in from a vacant house, at Fourth and Clark streets, where a telephone had been left. In addition he telephoned to various business houses and had groceries and other things sent to different parts of the city, causing a great deal of trouble.

He was frank enough to admit that all charged against him was true, and this went in his favor. He said he didn't know why he did it, and the court delivered a good lecture to him, saying that he was indeed a bad proposition, and he did not know what to do with him. If he tried him his mother was not able to pay a fine, and if he was sent to jail the people would begin to remonstrate against it and petition him to release him, and he was too small to put to work on the streets.

The court however finally fined the boy $25 and sentenced him to thirty days in jail, and suspended judgment against him for thirty days, on condition that he be of good behavior.
In case he is, the judgment will then be set aside. If he is not he will have to go to jail.

A penitent prisoner was J. W.
Campbell, a feather renovator of Truitt street who was charged with breaking up the furniture and otherwise disposing himself in an unlawful manner. He was fined with costs and excused this morning, or he would not have gotten off with a fine of $10 and costs.

A. L. Carpenter is the name of a young man who said he had papers that showed he was "good people."
The court did not care to see them, however, as they would not go in mitigation of the charge of drunkenness.
The defendant was fined $1 and costs.

Allen Waters, alias "Dimey," was fined a dollar for the first time in several days, for having too large a "package" yesterday.

Annie Ramsey, also colored, pleaded guilty to a similar offense and was also fined a dollar.

Jim Beach, colored, pleaded guilty to throwing a rock at a wife, but took pains to say that he was a bad marksman, and did not strike her. He was let off with a fine of $20 and costs, and went to the lockup to meditate on what he would have probably gotten if his aim had been better.

Judge Sanders delivered another good lecture on had conduct at Morton's opera house. Cases against Jim Dulan and Ed Martin were dismissed, but it is evident that the next time who acts in the manner prohibited will not get off so easily. Judge Sanders will hereafter enforce the law against them and Manager Terrell will prosecute every one who disturbs a performance in any manner.

"OORLOG"

The Word Which Mobilized the Boers and Sent Them to Frontier.

READY FOR ACTIVE DUTY

The Reports of Ravages Have Already Begun to Crowd
the Cables.

NOW WAR WILL GROW Apace

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 14.—The Boers have occupied Spitzkop, near New Castle. Official confirmation of report of fighting having taken place at Kraaipan has been received.

PRETORIA, Oct. 14.—The German consul has issued a proclamation of neutrality.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 14.—The attack on the British position at Mafekking began Thursday at midnight.
Several thousand Boers, under Cronje, with considerable artillery, bombarded the town. Details of their fighting are lacking as this dispatch is sent.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 14.—Two more armored trains are reported to have been destroyed by the Boers on the Cape railway. One was carrying the telegraph corps from Mafeking and the other was last seen at Taungs Station and is believed to have been destroyed after leaving there. There are conflicting reports as to fate of men on trains, but they are believed to have been captured. The soldiers on the train destroyed yesterday are also believed to be prisoners. A whole train of trucks carrying dynamite was also destroyed, but the engine was saved. An accident to a refugee train occurred at Three Rivers, two being killed and many wounded.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 14.—It is feared from official expressions that confidence in the ability of British frontier forces to hold their own is unjustified.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Rothschild family have received a telegram saying an engagement had taken place at Lady Smith and the Boers were defeated. The report is unconfirmed and the war office does not think the battle has taken place.

DURBAN, Natal, Oct. 14.—The whole fighting force of the Transvaal was mobilized Thursday night by telegraphing the single word
"oorlog" to all stations.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The departure of General Buller for Southampton, where he embarks this evening for South Africa, was the occasion for a great demonstration. An immense crowd surrounded the railway station and repeatedly cheered him. The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York were present to bid him farewell.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The World
prints a London report that two thousand Boers were killed in a battle near Lady Smith.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—It is reported officially that General Buller did not meet the Boer forces on his reconnaissance from Lady Smith and returned there.

THE FRANKLIN REWARD.

There Seems to be Some Doubt
About Its Being Paid.

Soon after the murder of Daisy Sullivan at Breunburg, Marshall county, Iowa, aggregating $700 were offered by the state and county together.
Detective W. A. Wickliffe, of the city, went to work on the case, and it was partly on evidence that he discovered that Franklin was arrested.
The county paid the $300 reward when Franklin was convicted two years ago, but the state auditor refused to pay the $400 offered by the state.

Mr. Wickliffe sued out a mandamus, but it went against him, and now that Franklin has been acquitted, it is possible that the reward will never be collected, although a man has been "arrested and convicted" for the crime, which were the terms prescribed in his state offer.

Some, however, allege that the state will have to pay the reward on account of the first conviction.

IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Today the President Welcomes Home More War Heroes.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 14.—The South Dakota regiment arrived here at 10 and was reviewed by President McKinley, who arrived two hours earlier. The regiment was given a great ovation by an immense throng. After reviewing the troops the president made a most excellent speech. He was especially eloquent when he thanked the regiment for remaining in the Philippines voluntarily when it had the right to demand to be mustered out. Several soldiers wept like school boys under the president's words. Lieutenant Hollman was presented to the president. The lieutenant won distinction by leading the detachment which extinguished the flames on the bridge at Macayan and when under heavy Philippine fire.

BRYAN COMING.

He Will Not Stop in Paducah, However.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan will arrive in Paducah on a special train Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock, but will not enter the city any nearer than the N. C. & St. L. intersection with the L. C.

He makes six speeches Monday, one at Hardwell, at 9 a. m., another at Mayfield at 10:15 a. m., and the next at Benton, at noon. In order to reach Benton he will have to come to Paducah over the L. C. At the "Y" his special train will be switched from the L. C. to the N. C. & St. L. and he will go on to Benton. From Benton he goes to Hopkinsville, passing back to the L. C. as he came, and speaks at Hopkinsville at 2:30 p. m. He winds up his oratorical efforts at 7 p. m. at Central City.

SIX speeches will be made the second day and five the last.

THEY OBEYED

The Negroes Evidently Wanted to Go to Jail.

Another Got Mad Because the Officer Did Not Wait
for Him.

Yesterday afternoon late four negroes came slouching up to the county jail. After standing around viewing with open mouth the building, Jailer Miller ventured to ask them what they wanted.

"We want to go to jail," replied one.
"The man told us to go to jail,"
said another, and it would be all right.
"What man?" asked the jailer.

"Constable Millich," they replied.
In a short time the constable himself came leisurely along with three more. He had a mittimus for each one, for confinement from ten to twenty-five days.

"There's another one coming," I guessed. He calmly informed the astonished jailer.

In about fifteen minutes here came the other. He was John McNeal, and he at once began raising a ruckus because the others did not wait for him when they left the Max's Mills section of the county, ten miles away, and caused him to pay 35 cents to be brought in on the jail truck.

The others were Bryant Overstreet, fined $47; Jim Radshaw, $24; Richard Hill, $24; Austin Gar-nest, $24; John McNeal, $24; Pete Wagon, $47; Luntz Hill, $24. They are all country dinkies who engaged too often in the seductive game of craps. They were tried yesterday before Justice Bryant and fined as stated above, and being unable to liquidate, came in yesterday, some alone to serve them in jail.

COSTUMES SECURED.

Mr. Will Martin in St. Louis in the Interest of the Elks.

Mr. Will Martin, of the Elks, is in St. Louis, where he went to secure costumes for the Elks parade during the carnival on the night of the 26th.
He has secured 100 of the prettiest costumes to be found in the Future Great, and will arrive home tomorrow. This is the initial step of Paducah lodge towards the greatest enterprise it has ever undertaken, and it intends to make it something that the city as well as the lodge will be proud of.

In addition to the 100 costumes in St. Louis, thirty or forty local costumes as well as many others that will be made for the occasion, will be used in the big parade.

ANOTHER DISAPPOINTMENT.

A HORROR

The Propeller Nutmeg State
Destroyed by Fire
Last Night.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST

The Timely Appearance of Another Steamer Averts Greater Disaster.

REPORT THE WIRES BRING

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The propeller Nutmeg State which left for Connecticut City last midnight, with a large passenger list, was on fire to the water's edge in the sound early this morning. The passenger list is lost.

At noon it was known these had lost their lives. Samuel Jayne, baggage master; Berney Hendry, officer; Patrick Coffey, first mate, and unidentified woman.

Flames spread so rapidly the steamer was ablaze from stem to stern in a short time. The sleeping passenger list was awakened by the crew, smoke and fire. Just then the steamer City of Lawrence appeared.

Many passengers were safely transferred in small boats to the Lawrence and brought to New York, where they were transferred to hospitals.

Captain Brooks, of the barge ship,
saw the first he knew of the fire was when he saw the blaze around the smokestack. He added the passengers became panic stricken and the sailors were compelled to hold many who attempted to jump overboard.

Now it is definitely known at least ten persons were killed. The bodies of three more men and one boy have been found. A wrecking tug is dragging the sound for more bodies.

The four additional dead are Charles Anderson, Tom Murphy, John Conners, all members of the crew, and Terence Brady, a cabin boy.

After the excitement attending the rescue of the crew and passengers had subsided it was learned a number of persons had jumped overboard. How many perished by drowning is not yet known. Passengers say they saw a lifeboat containing several women and children capsize. The occupants throw into the water disappeared.

Captain Brooks, of the Nutmeg State, says he knows three of his men were in the hold and had no way of escaping. He believes they burned to death.

Two salvation army women are missing. It is believed they perished in their staterooms.

insurgents.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—The Christian churches began here yesterday the jubilee of their organized missions. This denomination began seventy-five years ago, under the leadership of Dr. Alexander Campbell. The denomination is now more than a million strong. Three-fourths are in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee and Kansas. They are not only an active denomination in evangelism but work over 100,000 converts were added the present year.

The jubilee convention is represented by three missionary societies, the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, the American Christian Missionary Society and the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. Delegates and visitors are here from foreign countries, and fully 10,000 are expected.

SATURDAY, OCT. 14, 1899.

There is much unreliability about the news which comes from South Africa. War is at hand, but this seems to be the only settled fact.

Gov. Bradley has fixed next Thursday evening as the date upon which he will address the voters of Louisville on the issues of the pending state campaign.

Hon. J. W. Yerkes is to speak in Paducah Tuesday in behalf of our state ticket. As one of the brightest men in the state Mr. Yerkes should have a large audience.

Owensboro Democrats named a campaign ticket in a primary Thursday. The vote polled was so small that the independent ticket, it is agreed, can easily be elected.

The Louisville Post is right when it says: "Every Gobel orator and organ gets angry when it is suggested we should have an honest election in Kentucky. The very word 'honest' seems to inflame the Gobelites." An honest election is not what the Gobelites want.

David B. Hill has resurrected himself, and to the surprise of those who thought him dead, politically, is again at the head of the head of New York Democracy. Croker was floundering along with his gang. According to reliable authority Mr. Hill is said to be a Bryan champion, and the attitude of the ex-governor and his victory over Croker makes all laugh.

The number of men who fall on account of lack of courage is enormous, says an exchange. The number who would refuse to let go of a dollar if they knew positively that it would bring back two is astonishing. Such men rarely exist. They don't live. They never really amount to anything. The men who win are the men who think out the right course to pursue, and then back up their convictions with their last penny and their last ounce of energy. The post (?) has well said: "It is the gut up and give it makes men great" and rich.

All the indications point to Republican success in Kentucky. The Republicans have a strong candidate for the governorship. The party is united in its favor, as is shown by the nomination of Gov. Bradley to take the stump for the ticket. Very nearly, if not quite, as much interest is taken in this campaign as was taken in that of 1895, and as large a relative vote is likely to be polled. Kentucky, by its votes in the past four years, is seen to be a doubtful state. The Republicans carried it in 1895 and 1896, and it went Democratic in 1897, the margin in each case being comparatively small. If the Republicans show, throughout the remainder of the campaign, the same enthusiasm that they are displaying now they will carry the state. Gobel's supporters are thoroughly alarmed at the outlook.

ROOM AT THE TOP.

The following editorial from the American Agriculturist voices the sentiments of The Sun: It is commended to the young men and the young women of our land. There is always room at the top for the man or woman with ideas.

"Calamity howlers are hard up for an issue when they join in a chorus of complaint to the effect that young men haven't as good a chance in the world now as formerly, owing to trusts and combines. We object to such a complaint quite as much as we object to extortionate trusts. As a matter of fact, good men are constantly being sought for in every vocation.

The boy or young man endowed with health, persistence, push, a hunger for work and a determination to do his best every day, has a greater opportunity now than ever before. But the youngster who is looking for a soft spot, who is not thorough or competent in anything, whose character is weak and who is shiftless or slothful in any part of his makeup, has just as poor a prospect now as ever. The world has little use for that kind of men and women. What it wants is young blood endowed with "horse sense" and a determination to succeed. In common with other large employers, the writer is constantly watching for just such people, and the success of our business is largely due to our success in obtaining such employees. The weeding-out process, or the replacing of poor help with good, is constantly going on every where. As for trusts and combines, we do not apologize for them one bit, but their success will primarily depend upon their management, and that means the ability of their employees, and this means an increased demand for the best men and women. Let not the youth of either sex be dismayed by the calamity howlers referred to. Their complaint is not true. Competition is at the foot of the ladder, not at the top. It is a very roomy place up there. Almost any young man or woman has a fair chance of getting to the top of the ladder, if they will make sure of one round at a time. The old saying was never more true: "Where there's a will, there is a way."

ELECTION CONTEST.

Defeated Antis in Mayfield Will Contest the Election.

Mayfield, Mont., Oct. 14.—

R. S. Mahan and sixteen other citizens have filed notice of contest of the whisky election recently held. As grounds for contest they allege the voting was not by such a secret ballot as is contemplated by law; and that the officers of the election violated the law in keeping a record of how the ballots were cast and in failing to time informing the public during the progress of the election how the vote stood, and violated the law in other ways, and kept qualified voters from voting who would have voted for saloons, all of which they say makes the election void, and they ask for another election. The contest will be tried before the county election commissioners, J. T. George, W. D. Sullivan and T. H. Casby.

BIG CROWDS AT CAIRO.

Six Thousand Visitors Attend the Street Fair.

CAIRO, Oct. 14.—Yesterday was the third day of the Cairo Street Fair and it was a successful one. Although the weather was warm and threatening in the morning, by the middle of the forenoon it cleared and people from the adjacent country arrived by hundreds. The Illinois Central and Iron Mountain railroads brought in large excursions. There were probably 6,000 visitors here today, including prominent citizens from Belleville and the city officials of Paducah.

Crowds thronged the streets all day and until a late hour tonight.

DIED AT HAMPTON.

The remains of Mr. J. G. Thurman, father of Mr. Ed Thurman, of the St. Nicholas hotel, were brought to the city from Hampton, Livingston county, and buried this morning at 11 o'clock from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Parker, on South Eighth street, Rev. W. K. Penro officiating. The deceased was 74 years old and a highly respected man. He died suddenly in a chair at the home of a friend night before last of heart disease. He leaves a wife and five children, the latter being Messrs. Ed and William, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. W. R. Jones and Mrs. N. Derrington. The interment was at Oak Grove.

FISTIC CONTESTS.

There were several amateur bouts at the Paducah Athletic club last night, but the crowd was not large. It is expected that some lively contests will shortly be given, when the people will begin to take more interest in them.

SOME WOMEN DOUBT.

Many women think the bearing of children is a necessary period of great pain and distress. They doubt whether any medicine can relieve their sufferings. Well may they hesitate about taking those injurious internal mixtures so widely sold. But they may place implicit faith in the following:

MOTHER'S FRIEND.

which is a softening, relaxing and soothing liniment for external use. Putting women should get a bottle at the drug store for $1, and test it. There is no possibility of its doing harm, and there is every likelihood of its saving them many hours of pain.

For the one stray soul that must wait apart.

Leave greatness and sadness and fate, Perchance to die of a broken heart, That the world may remember its name.

But we who are only the rank and file, Whose fate is a life-span long, We may leave to earth the gift of a smile.

Observations

....at Random.

Judge W. D. Greer, of the firm Greer & Reed, yesterday received from Frank Ford the opinion of an important, as well as interesting suit that this well known law firm won in Callaway county, and which the court of appeals also decided in their favor.

The suit was on a $2,000 policy on the life of a Dr. Grogan. The latter one day went to an insurance agent in Murray and made application for life insurance. His application was sent away, and the following day the man was seized by fever. He became worse as time went on, and finally the policy arrived. Dr. Coleman, a friend, called on the agent, hearing that the policy was there, and volunteered to take it to Mr. Grogan's residence, as he was going there on a friendly call. The agent refused to do this unless the premium was paid, and this Dr. Coleman advanced.

When he reached Mr. Grogan's with the policy, however, the patient was unconscious, and it could not be delivered to him. It was afterwards given to his father to keep, then to his wife, and finally again to Dr. Coleman. Mr. Grogan died, and the company contested the policy on the grounds that it was never delivered, the patient having been unconscious after it was received, because it had never received the premium, and because there was a clause in which it was stated that the policy would be void unless delivered during the good health of the insured.

The plaintiff took the position that the company waived these rights through its agent, who stood in its shoes, and by whose action it would have to abide. The agent had delivered the policy when he knew the insured was ill, and this made the company liable.

The lower court decided in favor of the plaintiff, and the court of appeals, as shown by the decision received yesterday, sustained it.

Constables have queer as well as disagreeable duties to perform, but one of the most unusual a well known local constable was ever called upon to look after was a few days ago at the Union depot.

It appears that a woman had bought a trunk, and had not paid for it. Her creditor in some way learned that she was going away, and attached the trunk. This did not mean that the contents of the trunk were attached. Hence the officer, in serving his paper, had to unlock the trunk and unpack the goods. This performance took place in the baggage room, and a curious crowd of spectators. The woman stood stolidly by and watched operations, assisting herself occasionally. All her clothing was removed and placed on the floor. When the trunk was finally empty, it was hauled off and she was left here with her wardrobe and other belongings to sort on her visit as best she could.

A joke that is told on Mr. James G. Auer, the liverman, was funny to witness than hear. He went to the country not long ago, and was returning early in the morning when he saw a man standing in a field nearby. He thought he recognized a friend from the city, and stopping his horse abruptly, shouted—

"Come on and I'll let you ride to town."

The man disclaimed to notice him. He called again, this time louder, but still the man didn't budge, nor reply by word or deed.

Mr. Gaudier then whipped up his horse and said to himself what he would like to have said to the man. He found out afterwards that the supposed man was nothing more than one of the paper mache advertisements that are frequently seen on the streets, and are used in many places in the country as scare-crows.

A down town merchant was out in the back yard the other day, industriously kicking himself. He finally attracted the attention of his sympathetic neighbor.

"Vy, Moses," he said with tears in his eyes, "vat for you treat yourself old vay, huh?"

"Because, Isaac," was the disgusted reply, "I vas a tan phood, and I don't vint id on undil shind now?"

"Vat, so far from the times, I—I mean, Moses, vat you say?"

"I tel you, Isaac, vat I tone. I sold a man a trunk on credit, and the next day he leave town, huh?"

He goes away, and I didn't have sense enuff to know dat ef he deen't vant to go avay he vouldn't pay a drunk. Mein Gott, I vil be ruined yet!"

And he felt exulted on the ground.

When Noah Franklin heard the verdict of "not guilty" yesterday morning from the lips of one of the jurymen who had his life in their hands, he broke down and wept like a child.

When he heard the one condemning him and sentencing him for life two years ago, he was immovable and never trembled. This shows the different effects joy and sorrow have on some people.

Franklin had been a prisoner for four years, and guilty or not, he has been adjudged innocent of the heinous charge against him, and is entitled to pity for what he has had to endure in the name of justice. It is no wonder that he wept to know that it was all over.

One of the wittyest and most original Irishmen who ever ran on the railroad here was Paddy McGarrigal, who still lives somewhere in the city. He was witty without knowing it.

But we to the man who asked him foolish questions, or attempted to get ahead of him in a display of verbal pyrotechnics.

One of the earliest stories told of him was when he had a run at Elizabethton, Ky. One night he had a streak with an L. & N. train, and in one time "Kangaroo Court" was held. He was placed on the witness stand and stuck stolidly to his story. The L. & N. lawyer questioned him and cross questioned him, but to no purpose. Finally he exclaimed in exasperation:

"You're mighty smart, sir!"

"Sure, sir, an' O'm under oath, or O'd say dhe some av yez!" This neatly backed up court.

While at work in the yards here a steam pipe burst on his engine one recently cold day. Now this was quite an offense in the eyes of the L. & N. men, who were then in charge, wrathfully went out to discharge him. Calling him off his engine he said:

"Look at that pipe, sir! What did it?"

"Kould weather, sir," was the prompt reply.

Completely taken back by this quick response, he concluded, sons what he called, "Well I don't want to see anything like it again!"

"Shure, an' nather do O, sir," was the sententious retort, and he was allowed to climb back on his engine.

The two councilmen who went to Cairo yesterday in response to the invitation of Cairo's officials to relate their experiences in a using manner. They were Councilmen Yeiser and Davis. Naturally it was supposed all the council would attend, and these two unsuspecting men boarded the boat. It was not until the steamer pulled out that they learned they were the only two councilmen aboard. It was too late to get off, and they stood against at the feet of going on. Both thought of jumping overboard as a last resort, but finally rallied. In Cairo every body knows "Paddy McGarrigal," quoth one as he tried to swallow his wrath.

"Same here," responded the other—and so it was. When they got to Cairo there was a brass band and of friends in carriages at the wharf waiting for the mayor and city council. The band began to play and the two councilmen began to crowd out and up the hill with the hurrying excursionists. The band played on and the crowd surged up towards town, but the council never showed up. Finally the carriages were driven away and the band silent left. The two councilmen sadly watched it from afar, and bemoaning their own fate as they went.

Retaliated on the Cat.

Tommy, aged 4, wanted to sit at the dinner table one day when company was present, but was sent away with the remark that his whiskers weren't long enough for him to sit small table by himself, and while he was eating a pet cat came purring about him. "Oh, go 'way," said Tommy. "Your whiskers are big enough to eat at the company table."

Efforts Being Made to Secure a Change of Judge.

The celebrated damage suit of Mrs. Lay against Dr. Young, of Golconda, for $20,000, which has been in the Golconda court for several years, comes up in two weeks, and will this time, if tried at all, be tried in Paducah county, Ill., at Mount City, to which county a change of venue was granted at the last term of the Pope county court.

Attorneys Moss and Lightfoot, of the city, are attorneys for the plaintiff, and the latter has just returned from Illinois.

Under the present conditions, the case will be tried by the same judge, although in a different county, as he is presiding judge of both counties, and the attorneys have been trying to get a change of judge also. It is thought that they will be successful. Judge Roberts is the judge.

The case is one of the most important that ever came up in Southern Illinois, owing to the prominence of those concerned, and has an interest in Paducah, as many of the witnesses reside here, and Mrs. Lay was in an infirmary here, while recovering from the effects of the alleged malpractice of the defendant in the suit.

JAIL BEING REPAIRED.

The hole in the jail, occasioned by the escape of two prisoners, has been repaired. It was not very large. A force of men has also been at work on the flue at the jail today.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Association Paper is Out, Featuring With News.

The "Association Brief," the Y. M. C. A. official paper, is out for this week, and contains the following notes of interest:

The committee is arranging for a members' entertainment, to take place about the 20th of the month. These social gatherings always prove very enjoyable affairs, and it is in kind that they shall increase in popularity as the Association grows older. All members are invited to bring with them a gentleman friend, whether a member or not. Definite announcement of the date will be made later. Watch the columns of the Brief.

Mr. Louis P. Balthasar, the wall paper man, has proposed to paper the Association parlor on condition that the members rescap it. Men, can we miss this opportunity to add such a needed improvement? Will you do something towards a fund?

The Saturday night social lunch which proved so popular last winter will be resumed again this year.

Mr. O. P. Leigh is chairman of the recent on committee, and he is anxious to make the game room the leading social feature of the year. Prospects so far are very favorable to the realization of the hope. Young men can find no more pleasant place to spend their leisure.

Rev. W. R. Taylor will speak Sunday afternoon at the Association hall to men only. He should have a good crowd.

Classes in bookkeeping and other practical branches will begin soon. Members of the Association will find our educational department true to its name. There is real benefit in it.

Tickets are now on sale for the entertainment to be given by Mrs. Hawk Tuesday evening, the 17th, the program of which is here published. Mrs. Haskell's eloquent and dramatic ability is of high order, and she will undoubtedly have a good house.

The gymnasium classes are growing. Four new members joined us last evening. Men visitors to the gymnasium are always welcome.

The order of new books for the library will probably arrive this week. It comprises some of the very latest and best works of fiction. We do not deny a considerable pride in our library; we feel that it is pardonable.
